

THE CENTER FOR OTTOMAN-MALAY WORLD STUDIES

The Center was established with the collaboration of Fatih Sultan Mehmet Vakif University and the International Islamic University Malaysia, with centers in Istanbul and Kuala Lumpur. The Center's aim is to scientifically examine the history, policy, military, economy, culture and society of two of the most important Islamic civilizations in the world. To form a bridge between them and give the new generations a chance to better understand each other.

Main activities of the Center are:

- Perform research on Ottoman-Malay works, examine specific subject areas and to organize projects aiming to increase the development of the Islamic world.
- Organize international seminars, conferences, forums and workshops.
- Organize meetings and establish collaboration platforms between the related research centers.
- Publish works written in line with the context of Ottoman-Malay Studies.
- Establish a research database within the context of Ottoman-Malay Studies.
- Design Master's and Doctorate programs related to Ottoman-Malay Studies and to encourage and support interested researchers in writing papers and theses related to the subject.
- Form a bridge between Turkey and Malaysia through cultural and scientific collaborations.
